New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts Return Overwhelming Vote For Antis

GET TWO-FIFTHS OF VOTE
Estimated Total Against Measure is 1,485,000 While 1,016,000 Are For It

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Woman suffrage has lost its first great battle in the east. While returns were still rolling in from scattering districts in New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, confirming the decisive defeat of "Votes for Women," suffrage leaders in New York today announced plans for a big rally in Carnegie hall tomorrow night that is to mark the start of new campaigns.

Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, president of the National association, opposed to woman suffrage, surveyed the field with satisfaction today and then called her cohorts together to get the "anti" organizations to meet the next assaults of the yellow ribbons. With but few precincts missing, suffrage was beaten by about 200,000 in the state of New York. Only five counties, incomplete returns showed, registered majorities for votes for women. The cities turned heavily against it. New York's anti-suffrage majority was about 98,000; Buffalo's about 7,000 and Rochester's about 5,000. Jamestown, however, voted for suffrage by 1,800.

Returns from Massachusetts, with one precinct missing, give the majority against suffrage as 132,383. Boston piled up a heavy vote against the cause and not a single county gave suffrage a majority.

Penn Vote Heavy

Pennsylvania returns early today indicated a majority against suffrage of only about 125,000 to 150,000, a surprise in view of politicians' predictions that suffrage would be defeated by more than 200,000. Philadelphia voted against suffrage by more than 80,000 majority and

ROOT'S EFFORTS OF NO AVAIL WHEN NEW CHARTER IS BEATEN

Intimation is Former Senator Planned Work For Recognition as Presidential Candidate

TAMMANY HALL OPPOSES IT

Democratic Organization Had Support of All Reform Parties Against Measure

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—New York rejected the new constitution which the convention presided over and dominated by Elihu Root spent months in framing, by an overwhelming majority, estimated to be at least 450,000.

The former United States senator made no secret of the fact that he planned his work on the state's new charter as a climax to his long career in public life. He has repeatedly said he had put his best efforts into the document. His speeches on the floor of the convention and in urging adoption of the constitution later have been generally regarded as Root's bids for recognition as a candidate for the republican nomination for president.

Friends of Root today insisted that the defeat of the constitution would in no way affect his candidacy. There was much speculation in political circles, however, as to how the repudiation by his own state of Root's ideas of government would be received by republican leaders in other parts of the country.

Party lines were obviously shattered in voting on the constitution though the charter was supported by the republican organization. It was bitterly opposed by progressives. Tammany hall declared against the constitution and had with it in this instance practically all reform elements.

William Barnes, republican state chairman, said he attributed its defeat to the fact that the constitution was presented as a whole instead of putting the various propositions before the people separately.

RETIRED OFFICER DEAD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—George M. Sternberg, United States army, retired, formerly surgeon general of the army, died at his home here today.

VILLISTAS GIVE UP THE FIGHT AND MANY SURRENDER

CARRANZA GUNS RAKE LINES

Douglas Thrown Into Great Excitement and Schools are Closed Pending End of Battle

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The state department was advised today that the allies have decided to recognize the Carranza government in Mexico. Recognition will be accorded as soon as Italy prepares the note on behalf of the entente group.

DOUGLAS, ARIZ., Nov. 3.—General Villa's army today abandoned Agua Prieta to the Carranza garrison. Villa's last positions in front of the Mexican border town were vacated under heavy artillery fire by the Carranzistas.

Villa's artillery retired toward Naco, Sonora. His infantry and cavalry scattered in all directions. Six hundred Carranzista cavalrymen pursued the rear guard and kept up a running battle for two hours.

Villista soldiers, who voluntarily gave themselves up to the United States troops by crossing the boundary, declared that Villa's opposition to Carranza was utterly on its last legs.

For days the Villista infantrymen lived on roots, herbs, grains and such foods as they could confiscate.

Even Villa's officers had begun to threaten mutiny. Many of his soldiers made their way to the Carranzista lines at the Agua Prieta and surrendered.

General Funston today emphatically denied that he had asked the war department for permission to invade Mexican territory if he considered such action necessary to protect lives and property of American citizens on this side of the border.

General Calles trained his artillery in Agua Prieta early today in a terrific bombardment of the Villista lines.

Douglas streets were crowded at the time and the inhabitants were thrown into the greatest excitement. Many children going to school sought the quickest shelter. Superintendent Lutz afterwards announced that the schools would be closed until the battle of Agua Prieta was ended decisively.

The Villista force made little or no effort to return the fire.

The American border guard displayed activity, making preparations to move on short notice to any point on the international boundary line threatened by a possible renewal of infantry fighting. Two days' fighting has resulted in the death of one United States infantryman and probable fatal injury to an American civilian by flying bullets in Douglas.

SUPERVISORS MAY TAKE TRIP TO SEE M'GILVRAY ROAD

New Members of County Board Suggest Visit When Assembly Meets Next Week

Members of the La Crosse county board of supervisors, in annual session here next week, may pay an official visit to the McGilvray road and series of broken down bridges, which separate the counties of La Crosse and Trempealeau and span the Black river.

A visit to the McGilvray road—the bone of contention between the sister counties for many years—was suggested today by some of the new members of the county legislature. The members who want the board to visit the road suggest that the body travel to the northwest corner of La Crosse county in automobiles supplied by La Crosse business men anxious to have the road and bridges repaired.

GUNS WHICH BROKE PRZEMYSL TO BE USED AGAINST NISH

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 3.—The Austro-German forces in Serbia are preparing for an active bombardment of Nish.

Austrian howitzers of the type which leveled the forts of Przemyśl have arrived at Pirot in preparation for the bombardment of the Serbian capital, reports here today stated.

French troops are being landed at Kavala, the Greek port on the Aegean sea, it was also reported.

PARIS, Nov. 3.—With Austro-Germans and Bulgarians closing in on Nish from three sides today, there were grave fears lest the Serbians' main army be surrounded.

The arc of the Bulgarian front curved around the Serb capital from the Vranja region through Pirot to Knjezevac. The Austro-German concave line swept first to the north-westward and then to the south-west, through the country to the south of Kragujevac into the upper Morava valley, which in western Serbia extends along a northwest and southeast line.

VALEGIA COMPANY BANKRUPTCY STARTS U. S.-STATE CLASH

Secretary of State Tax Commission Ordered to Jail for Withholding Tax Returns

TAKES REFUGE IN STATE LAW

Tangle is Direct Issue of Authority Between Federal Courts and State Statute

The defunct Valecia Condensed Milk company from the remains of which W. R. Montague and other La Crosse stockholders organized the Valecia Evaporated Milk company this summer, has given its name to a case which promises to be one of the most celebrated legal tangles in the history of Wisconsin. From the bankruptcy proceedings in the Valecia Condensed Milk company case has sprung a clash between federal and state authority which resulted today in the conviction of A. J. Myrland, secretary of the state tax commission, on a charge of contempt. Federal Judge A. L. Sanborn in Madison this morning ordered the state officer locked up in the Dane county jail when he refused to produce the income tax returns of the dead corporation.

Ever since the first Valecia company went on the rocks, the federal bankruptcy court has been occupied, from time to time, with examination of the officers in the effort to locate assets. Recently, in order to check the statements of the officers with their reports to the tax commission, Myrland was subpoenaed.

He refused to give up his records, taking refuge in the state law which forbids the publication of income tax returns under penalty of fine and imprisonment. The matter thus became a direct issue between federal authority and state law.

Myrland's arrest, and the clash between the rival authorities, has nothing to do with the Valecia Evaporated Milk company of which W. R. Montague of La Crosse is organizer and president. Mr. Montague and the company's counsel, W. C. Winter, said here today.

Held by Marshal
Pending the legal move which will be made by the attorney general's office, Myrland is in the custody of the United States marshal. Following the serving upon Myrland of the order of Judge Sanborn hurried conferences were held with the attorney general's office and with Judge Sanborn. Unless a stay of execution of the order committing Myrland to the Dane county jail can be effected, habeas corpus proceedings will be started before the state supreme court today.

It is claimed by lawyers that the case may prove as interesting from a legal standpoint, as the famous Joshua Glover case of Racine, where long litigation was occasioned in the state and federal courts over the enforcement of the fugitive slave act.

AMENDMENTS ARE DEFEATED

"Stability League" Measure is Licked and Republican Gerrymander Loses

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 3.—Statewide prohibition was defeated in Ohio in yesterday's election by between fifty thousand and sixty thousand votes, nearly complete official returns showed today. Returns from 3,860 precincts out of 5,500, gave 277,738 for prohibition and 335,638 against.

The returns were from 85 of the 88 counties.

Prohibition was defeated last year by more than 84,000. The rural counties were responsible for the gain in the dry vote.

Other state issues submitted to Ohio voters were defeated by the following estimated majorities:

The "stability league" amendment, designed to emasculate the initiative and referendum, by 30,000. Amendment extending county officers' terms from two to four years, by 250,000.

Amendment to exempt municipal bonds from state taxation, by from 5,000 to 10,000.

Republican congressional gerrymander, by 30,000.

Measure to substitute local for state control of liquor business, by 70,000.

PROGRESSIVES BACK IN FOLD

Third Party Eliminated by State When it Fails To Poll Three Per Cent

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Republican gains in the majority of states voting yesterday were confirmed in practically complete returns today.

There was no "landslide." But excepting New York city every large voting area revealed an unmistakable trend toward the republican party and the return of former progressives to the fold. The third party almost disappeared in the eastern states.

Complete returns today from Massachusetts gave Samuel W. McCall, republican, a plurality over Governor Walsh, democrat, of 6,363, in the gubernatorial fight. Coolidge, republican candidate for lieutenant governor, was elected by 45,931 votes and the republicans gained in the legislature.

Complete returns give: McCall, republican, 235,300. Walsh, democrat, 228,942. Shaw, prohibition, 19,471. Clark, progressive, 7,022. Last year McCall received 198,627 votes; Walsh, 210,442, and Walker, progressive, 32,145.

Hilles Predicts Victory
Republican National Chairman Charles D. Hilles today declared the overthrow of a democratic governor in Massachusetts and republican victories elsewhere, showed a lack of confidence in President Wilson and indicated a republican victory in 1916.

"The Bay state campaign was one of national issues from the first," declared Hilles. "Both parties made it plain that a vote for McCall would be a sign of disapproval of the Wilson administration. McCall won and the result must offer a gloomy forecast to the democrats for 1916."

Democratic National Chairman William F. McCombs said the defeat of Governor Walsh in Massachusetts could not be considered criticism of the Wilson administration. "I was not greatly surprised at the news," said McCombs. "The demo-

Galesville Man Wishes a Bull on the County Clerk

County Clerk Bert A. Jolivet can't picture to himself a healthy young bull tethered to the handle of his safe in the court house. Neither can District Attorney Otto M. Schlabach, but Jolivet has been made guardian of the bull, and is "required by law" to dispose of it.

The bull in question annoyed Charles S. Parker, proprietor in the town of Holland, by straying on his land.

Jolivet received the following letter from the irate farmer this morning:

"Dear Sir:
"I wish to give you due notice, as required by law, concerning a young bull that strayed upon my premises October 18. My premises are within the town of Holland. This bull is a red and white animal, about two years old, and weighing about 600 pounds. He has horns and looks like part Guernsey. The owner may have the same. Please give this matter your official attention, as required by law, and take the bull off my hands."

"CHARLES S. PARKER, Galesville."

Jolivet appealed to a TRIBUNE reporter today to aid him in a search for the owner of the bull.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The History Of Children's Counting Frames.

ONE night daddy came home with a package under his arm. When the children ran to see if it was something for them he unwrapped a beautiful new counting frame. After supper he told the children this story:

"This is the nicest, newest counting frame I could find for you kiddies," he began. "But it is made just like the oldest kind of arithmetic in the world. Far back, before even history was written, little boys in China, Persia, Japan, Babylon, Rome and Greece, which are some of the very oldest countries in the world, learned to count on frames very like this I bring you."

"Did they have nice red and green beads just like ours?" Jack asked.

"The very first arithmetic of all," said daddy, "was probably a tray bigger than this frame and filled with nice clean sand, on which the ancients made figures when they had to reckon. But sand can get split, so as years went by they strung pretty colored beads on wires held tight in a frame."

"How could children count then?" asked Evelyn.

"Units, tens, hundreds, thousands—just as children begin to learn in schools now," daddy explained. "Each bead or each color meant a unit or ten. The very interesting and strange thing is that there is so little difference between the ancient counting frame and ours right here. The ancients had a name for theirs that you may like to know."

"Yes—yes," cried both Jack and Evelyn.

"They called it an abacus," said daddy. "And many a little Chinese lad, in his beautiful embroidered silk coat, sat with his legs curled under him and learned to count and pay for imaginary things. It is believed that China was the very first country to make an abacus, and I will tell you something for a surprise now. There are still parts of China and Persia where the people still use the abacus."

"Grownups—not children, daddy?" asked Jack.

"Yes, grownups, who have never been to school when they were children and are yet bright enough to buy and sell and make money to support their families. I once met a man who had just returned from a corner of China where he had sold much cotton. He told me that the Chinamen who live in these little out-of-the-way towns are very quick at counting money on a frame and that they will give you figures as fast as a white man can reckon."

"By tomorrow night, when I come home, I want both you children to make up a game by which you can learn to count one thousand rapidly."

"Units, tens, thousands—I spy," cried Jack.

CITY OF OYSTERS USURPS SOME OF GOTHAM'S PRESTIGE

Mrs. Galt Brings to Baltimore Much of Crowd Usually Seen on Fifth Avenue

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for the United Press)
Since Mrs. Galt has called a halt On Paris modes awhile, We now will go By B. and O. To Baltimore for style.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Baltimore is a fine place for frocks and oysters. Like the succulent bivalves, the models turned out by the dressmakers of the Maryland city are apt to be either much shirred or scalloped. None of the sartorial efforts have been panned, however, although paniers are much in evidence on many.

Although the suit and afternoon gowns ordered at Baltimore by Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt, the prospective first lady of the land, are two of "rolling green" and one of seal brown, it is a safe bet that her Baltimore trosses will not be complete without at least one frock of oyster white.

Mrs. Galt has evinced a preference for Georgette crepe since both her green and brown afternoon gowns are combinations of this soft, clinging material with either taffeta or chiffon. Her blouses also are crepe Georgette and indeed not only the first but every lady of the land seems to have a penchant for this fabric. It is being utilized every place and for everything where once the chiffon reigned supreme.

There is hardly an afternoon model for the season that does not show transparent sleeves—of the crepe Georgette; and particularly in the wide bell sleeves banded in fur is this fabric charming.

It has even crept closer to feminine hearts as airily fashioned undergarments, and as nighties, chemises, petticoats, Princess slips and as combinations it adopts itself enchantingly.

She Saw Something
While on the delicate subject of Georgette underwear, I want to describe with bated breath a sensational set of intimate garments on display in a Fifth avenue shop window. The complete set consisted of a chemise of very wide and very cobby black net lace hung straight from shoulder straps of inch wide black satin ribbon, a pair of long lace pantalets on a black ribbon band, a brassiere of black satin ribbon and lace; and a petticoat, in case the weather should be chill, is permissible to be held in reserve.

It is like the chemise, just a full fall of this wide lace gathered on a black ribbon around the waist. This shop window of inky, slinky garments comes in for a good share of black looks.

Indeed, to keep it dark seems about the best thing to do with this modern lingerie set of ebony hue.

This same shop is offering another sensation in the shape of high velvet shoes buttoned with little filigree ball buttons of gilt. One pair of burnt orange velvet and a pair of black velvet to match has a cunning little fat Chinaman embroidered on the ankle.

Burnt Orange Popular
Burnt orange, by the way, is a very popular color for seasonable evening gowns. Wondrous velvet ones of burnt orange are heavily embroidered in silver and combined with silver lace. Dark fur bandings are also stunning combined with the burnt orange velvet. Gorgeous evening mantles of this combination are as effective as any of the other vivid velvets not shown in these voluminous garments.

I glimpsed a petite brunette actress successfully exploiting the burnt orange coloring on Fifth avenue one warm day last week. She was without a wrap and her full short skirted dress was of orange and olive green figured chiffon made with a tichoned bodice laced with an orange cord over a glimpse of burnt orange crepe Georgette with full bell sleeves. With this she wore high bottomed shoes of olive green kid. It was a case of a pair of green kids, but no trio, if you please.

I wonder if this outfit came from Baltimore!

YALE GETS NEW HOPE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 3.—It was a different Yale that looked forward to the rest of the football season today. The return of Tom Sheelin, John Kilpatrick and Lucius Bigelow, and other famous Blue stars, has instilled a new hope that the Elis may yet be whipped into shape for the Harvard and Princeton games.

One Need in Tuberculosis is careful attention to hygienic living and proper diet. Science is agreed that fresh air, rest and avoidance of food excesses constitute the most effective non-medical treatment in this widespread disease.

Often, however, these measures need supplementing by proper medication. The system lacks sufficient resistance to overcome the attack, and something must be done to assist in up-building the patient's strength.

In many cases of the sort Eckman's Alternative has been used with marked success. Its efficacy in this disease has borne fruit in a record of numerous apparent recoveries, and where a tonic is indicated, it has produced most beneficial results. Since it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, it is safe to try.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

MADGE

BY JANE OSBORN

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

To Burton Jones there were two distinct phases of life at Silver Cliff Crossings. There was the town, with its army of mine workers—all of them, from the owners of the mine down, rough, self-centered, eager and brutal as Burton himself was when he was working with them—its few cheaply built stores and houses, as long, grimy days of all-absorbing work as an electrical engineer in the mine works, the boarding house with its freshly varnished, cheap interior, its shrill-voiced, bulky proprietress, its muddy coffee and interminable baked beans and boiled potatoes. There was all this and there was Madge.

Burton Jones had come to the crossing fresh from his post graduate course in college. He was only 24, but in his big, rather loosely jointed frame, in his kindly, large, expressive features, and in his direct decisive way of saying things he seemed much older. The day after his arrival at the boarding house he had noticed Madge.

This was but natural, for she was the only woman besides the boarding house keeper herself in the place. Madge was eating breakfast in haste, with her thoughts preoccupied. She was plainly dressed and not remarkably pretty, but there was something about her that first day that gripped Burton's attention. He watched her as she finished her breakfast and then, as she rose from her place, his eyes followed her. She went to the pantry quite as a matter of course and soon returned with a large tray which she proceeded to fit out with the breakfast that the boarding house table provided. Then she left the room with the tray and Burton carried the image of her figure in his mind as he went for his first day's work at the mine.

Burton soon found out about Madge. Every one in Silver Cliff Crossings knew about the Lathrops. She was the secretary of the manager of the works and supported herself and her invalid brother on her hard-earned wages. They had come out a year before, the inducement being the high wages offered in the Crossings and the additional fact that the air was healthy. Madge's brother, who, people said, had improved wonderfully since he arrived. Madge on the contrary, was showing signs of the strain.

Burton's first feeling for the invalid was one of great sympathy and, as he looked at the large, well proportioned figure spread out in the sunlight on the veranda of the boarding house on Sunday morning, he felt great pity for the man who was forced to live on his sister's earnings. Burton watched the two closely, uneasily, all day, feeling a peculiar fascination in Madge's every move. In Hardy's face he detected a fretful, impatient look, an expression in his dark features that haunted Burton as persistently, but not so pleasantly, as did that of Madge. For some reason that he did not understand, he felt dislike for the brother.

Before long, Burton became friendly with the Lathrops and as a means of helping Madge he spent hours with Hardy talking to him and cheering him. Often Madge had to work evenings with the mine manager and then she would knock at Burton's door and ask him to come and spend the evening with Hardy.

They were good friends from the start, were Madge and Burton, but it was not until after Burton had been at the Crossings six months that he felt that he had broken down the first barriers that led to something more than friendship.

It was spring and Hardy was showing marked signs of improvement and with the let-up in anxiety, Madge's nerve was being shaken. She had worked very hard all winter and her constant vigils with Hardy had apparently been too much for her. Burton had received two raises in salary and as he looked over his bank book one day an idea which had been haunting him for months took definite form. Yes, he could do it now. He would have to do it. It was killing him to see Madge slaving any longer. Once his increased salary would have turned his thoughts back to one of the pretty girls he had known in college, but now it was Madge.

Purposely he walked toward the office of the mine works the next day in order to walk home with Madge. At first they talked of Hardy's improvement.

"You have been so good, Burton," she said, letting her hand rest lightly on his arm for a second. "If you only knew how hard it is for him sometimes. If you only understood Hardy, you would see how much good you have done him."

Burton for an instant felt contempt for the helpless brother. He longed to shield Madge, to take her away from the mine works forever.

"Some time, perhaps, I will tell you about Hardy and then you will know how hard it is—"

Burton felt no desire to talk about Hardy and he looked away from Madge as she spoke.

"Some time, some time," began Burton. "I'll tell you why I have done what I have done for Hardy." He turned to her almost brutally.

"You know—Madge."

It was dusk in the valley and Burton seized Madge's wrists tightly in his hands and pressed down upon them as he looked in her face. "Madge, you know I—"

Madge freed herself, but not angrilly. "Burton, don't. How can you?" And then she ran on alone up the road toward the boarding house.

The next day Burton met Madge again. She had gained her composure and so had Burton. He was ready to make clear to her that he could support Hardy until he was better if she would but marry him. He started to explain.

Madge touched his arm ever so lightly. "Burton," she said, and her voice had never sounded so sweet. "I am sorry I didn't tell you sooner. But I had no idea that you would think of saying what you have. Burton, didn't you know, haven't you guessed, that Hardy isn't my brother?"

The explanation followed in monosyllables. It was harder than Madge had expected to explain that Hardy and she had been friends in the East and had become engaged. Hardy had no money and no family, only his own wits to push his way in his law profession. Then his illness had come, the illness that would eventually have killed him in the East. He had been ordered West. She had decided to go with him, to work for him and to nurse him as a sister would have done. Yes, they might have been married, but Hardy did not wish it till he knew he would recover. Of course, her friends had objected, but she had come anyway, and Hardy, being helpless, had had to consent. They had passed as brother and sister. Now Hardy's recovery was no doubt of its completeness. In a few more months he would be able to begin work. In the autumn they would be married.

"But you are not married? You are free?" Burton was almost jubilant. "Madge, you must love me. Madge, you do."

Burton held her hands to his lips and she made no resistance. "Madge, you do love me. I know it."

She stepped in the hark darkness and looked steadily in his young face.

"Yes, Burton, I do love you. In a way I love you better than any one else in the world. You are strong. You are young and you have all the world before you. Hardy has nothing but me. Don't you see how hard it has been for him—how it has galled him—how he has hated himself because he has had to let me do this? But I am the woman, he loves, the woman who promised to marry him. That made it possible. That made our action justifiable. Burton, tell me you understand."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. WHO WILL HELP THE Y. W. C. A.?

No more than an individual can an institution thrive upon short rations. We can not fairly judge of the true value of an undertaken workman. Neither can we justly attempt to measure the value of an organization that has lacked the funds necessary to feed its functions and all of them.

La Crosse must plead guilty to not having properly nourished its Young Women's Christian Association. Lacking funds, it has not been able to seize upon all of its opportunities, or to develop to the fullest its splendid possibilities.

That, even under its heavy handicap, it has accomplished so much—and it has gone far in a good work—is a fact that should impel the people of La Crosse to give it a chance to demonstrate the scope of its power and influence under fair working conditions.

La Crosse is not a "tight" city. Its interest and sympathy awakened, it gives freely and fully for the support of those agencies which uplift and ennoble humanity. Conscience of its past generosity, we feel certain that if the public interest and conscience shall be aroused our citizens will not permit the abandonment of the "Y. W." for want of the modest sum required to give it a fair chance.

The present income of the "Y. W." is a little over $5,000. To work out its destiny, and effectuate the purposes of those who have so generously devoted themselves to its labors, it should have for the present a budget of $7,000. Given that start, the gratuities required at the outset would be cut down from year to year by the revenue added by its growing membership and wider scope.

Who will give? Who will help? Who will suggest ways and means? How shall we create our affirmative reply to a question to answer which in the negative would be to shame our city?

"REWARD OF MERIT"

Fifty years in business, without an untoward incident, is an experience that is its own compliment to those who enjoy the distinction. Recently compiled statistics show that more than 70 per cent of business organizations fail, and that among those which survive, reorganizations involving new capital figure largely in their history.

In the light of these facts the fiftieth anniversary of the Fred Kroner Hardware company is an event upon which this community may justly felicitate. That citizens realize its significance is evidenced by the pleasure with which they are showing their interest. In the old country school we used to receive, at the close of each term, a gay little card bearing the inspiring message, "Reward of Merit." For the straight, intelligent and progressive record that has taken them through fifty years of peace, wars and panics, undaunted and unscarred, we extend to all the Kroners our congratulations in this, our "Reward of Merit" card.

INTENSIVE DEFENSE

What is the use of the United States manufacturing 100,000 machine guns without recruiting 100,000 men to man them? Or 50,000 pieces of field artillery without training 50,000 new artillerymen?

We have a slovenly notion of our soldiering, just as we have a wasteful method of handling our police. Each man is trained to do a certain thing, and then he waits for the necessity of doing that one thing, although it seldom comes.

Why can't our police be employed in useful occupations, instead of simply loafing around waiting for a breach of the law?

Why can not our soldiers be trained to more than one phase of warfare?

We believe it is practical for every regiment in our regular army to be trained to efficiency in the use of artillery, machine guns and rifles. Why should they consume the entire year with "Right forward, fours right" and rifle practice? We doubt if there is a reason in the world why every man of them should not be made as capable behind a 42-centimeter or a machine gun as with the infantry equipment.

The same is less true of the militia, but we believe that even with its limitations this branch of the service could be prepared to use either rifles or machine guns as necessity might demand. And if not, would it not be wise to equip at least seventy-five per cent of the state militia with machine guns upon the theory that whereas a considerable percentage of private citizens eligible to enlistment are familiar with the rifle, only those especially trained for that purpose under military authority are proficient with the machine gun?

We have industrial methods developed to get the most product and the maximum of service out of our factories and their forces, we have intensive farming to get the largest and most diversified products from the soil. If we will search our present military and naval resources to see how we can get from them the maximum of service and efficiency, we shall have less need of colossal expenditures fathered by a grotesque panic and a sordid commercialism.

Our notion of the best investment in "preparedness," borrowed from Germany, is 50,000 well trained American military officers.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The Debutante
On tiptoe at the threshold I,
Arrived at last by childhood's ways
Before the door I fain would pass—
The entrance to life's devious maze.

The happy sunshine gilds the path
On which I turn my back today;
They tell me that the clouds hang low,
Too often, o'er this waiting way.

My feet are shod by loving care
To tread the flints I may not miss;
My role is made with faith and prayer—
To bear the thorn's too poignant kiss.

The tender hands that mine have clasped
Must loose their hold; I stand alone,
The golden counsels freely given
No more may guide; I am my own.

Equipped, impatient, courage high,
Assured of happy destiny,
I make my courtesy to life.
And beg her open the door to me!

Merci

A young lady sat next to a distinguished bishop at a church dinner. She was rather awed by the bishop's presence. For some time she hesitated to speak to him. Finally, seeing some bananas passed, she turned to him and said:

"I beg your pardon, but are you fond of bananas?"

The bishop was slightly deaf, and leaning forward replied:

"What did you say?"

"I said," repeated the young lady, blushing, "are you fond of bananas?"

The bishop thought for a moment and then said:

"If you want my honest opinion, I have always preferred the old-fashioned night shirt."—The Re-Saw.

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

A dam could be constructed easily across the narrow stream, and the water could be made to flood a big supply of poplar, birch, willow and alder. Also the place was sheltered by heavy timber, so that the winters would be warm. Broken Tooth quickly gave his followers to understand that this was to be their new home. On both sides of the stream they swarmed into the near-by timber. The babies began at once to nibble hungrily at the tender bark of willow and alder. The older ones, every one of them now a working engineer, investigated excitedly, breakfasting by nibbling off a mouthful of bark now and then.

That day the work of home-building began. Broken Tooth himself selected a big birch that leaned over the stream, and began the work of cutting through the ten-inch butt with his three long teeth. Though the old patriarch had lost one tooth, the three that remained had not deteriorated with age. The outer edge of them was formed of the hardest enamel; the inner side was of soft ivory. They were like the finest steel chisels, the enamel never wearing away and the softer ivory replacing itself year by year as it was consumed. Sitting on his hindlegs, with his forepaws resting against the tree and with his heavy tail giving him a firm balance, Broken Tooth began gnawing a narrow ring entirely around the tree. He worked tirelessly for several hours, and when at last he stopped to rest another workman took up the task. Meanwhile a dozen beavers were hard at work cutting timber. Long before Broken Tooth's tree was ready to fall across the stream a smaller poplar crashed into the water. The cutting on the big birch was in the shape of an hour-glass. In twenty hours it fell straight across the creek. While the beaver prefers to do most of his work at night he is a day laborer as well, and Broken Tooth gave his tribe but little rest during the days that followed. With almost human intelligence the little engineers kept at their task. Smaller trees were felled, and these were cut into four or five foot lengths. One by one these lengths were rolled to the stream, the beavers pushing them with their heads and forepaws, and by means of brush and small limbs they were fastened securely against the birch. When the framework was completed the wonderful cement construction was begun. In this the beavers were the masters of men. Dynamite was the only force that could hereafter break up what they were building now. Under their cup-like chins the beavers brought from the banks a mixture of mud and fine twigs, carrying from half a pound to a pound at a load and began filling up the framework with it. Their task seemed tremendous, and yet Broken Tooth's engineers could carry a ton of this mud and twig mixture during a day and night. In three days the water was beginning to back, until it rose about the butts of a dozen or more trees and was flooding a small area of brush. This made work easier. From now on materials could be cut in the water and easily floated. While a part of the beaver colony was taking advantage of the water, others were felling trees end to end with the birch, laying the working frame of a dam a hundred feet in width. They had nearly accomplished this work when one morning Kazan and Gray Wolf returned to the swamp.

CHAPTER XX.
A Feud in the Wilderness.

A soft wind blowing from the south and east brought the scent of the invaders to Gray Wolf's nose when they were still half a mile away. She gave the warning to Kazan and he, too, found the strange scent in the air. It grew stronger as they advanced. When two hundred yards from the windfall they heard the sudden crash of a falling tree, and stopped. For a full minute they stood tense and listening. Then the silence was broken by a squeaking cry, followed by a splash. Gray Wolf's alert ears fell back and she turned her blind face understandingly toward Kazan. They trotted ahead slowly, approaching the windfall from behind. Not until they had reached the top of the knoll on which it was situated did Kazan begin to see the wonderful change that had taken place during their absence. Astounded, they stood while he stared. There was no longer a little creek below them. Where it had been was a pond that reached almost to the foot of the knoll. It was fully a hundred feet in width and the back-water had flooded the trees and brush for five or six times that distance toward the burn. They had come up quietly and Broken Tooth's dull-scented workers were unaware of their presence. Not fifty feet away Broken Tooth himself was gnawing at the butt of a tree. An equal distance to the right of him four or five of the baby beavers were at play building a miniature dam of mud and tiny twigs. On the opposite side of the pond was a steep bank six or seven feet high, and here a few of the older children—two years old, but still not workmen—were having great fun climbing the bank and using it as a toboggan-slide. It was their splashing that Kazan and Gray Wolf had heard. In a dozen different places the older beavers were at work.

A few weeks before Kazan had looked upon a similar scene when he had returned into the north from Broken Tooth's old home. It had not interested him then. But a quick and thrilling change swept through him now. The beavers had ceased to be mere water animals, unteachable and with an odor that displeased him. They were invaders—and enemies. His fangs bared silently. His crest stiffened like the hair of a brush, and the muscles of his forelegs and shoulders stood out like whipcords. Not a sound came from him as he rushed down upon Broken Tooth. The old beaver was oblivious of danger until Kazan was within twenty feet of him. Naturally slow of movement on land, he stood for an instant stupefied. Then he swung down from the tree as Kazan leaped upon him. Over and over they rolled to the edge of the bank, carried on by the dog's momentum. In another moment the thick heavy body of the beaver had slipped like oil from under Kazan and Broken Tooth was safe in his element, two holes bitten clean through his fleshy tail. Baffled in his efforts to get a death-hold on Broken Tooth, Kazan swung like a flash to the right. The young beavers had not moved. Astonished and frightened at what they had seen, they stood as if stupefied. Not until they saw Kazan tearing toward them did they awaken to action. Three of them reached the water. The fourth and fifth—baby beavers not more than three months old—were too late. With a single snap of his jaw Kazan broke the back of one. The other he pinned down by the throat and shook as a terrier shakes a rat. When Gray Wolf trotted down to him both of the little beavers were dead. She sniffed at their soft little bodies and whined. Perhaps the baby creatures reminded her of runaway Barea, her own baby, for there was a note of longing in her whine as she nosed them. It was the mother whine.

APPLETON, Wis., Nov. 3.—Geo. Zwick had a novel excuse when brought into court on an assault charge, accused of having struck his wife while they were riding home. THE GREATEST BLOOD PURIFIER EVER DISCOVERED

Thousands bears testimony to a remedy that has stood the test of over half a century—S. S. S.

Possibly there is no remedy ever compounded by the hand of man that has been able to show such a clean record for the wonderful effect it has had in remedying the ills of men and women. The library of the Swift Specific Company in Atlanta is a veritable treasure chest of testimonials, setting forth in distinct and indisputable language how S. S. S. has banished the horrible suffering of Rheumatism. There are thousands and thousands of letters from grateful fathers who have at last the knowledge that the hereditary taint that was discovered in their blood will not have to be handed down to their children. Here are wonderful records to tell where the horrible suffering of Catarrh has gone forever, where skin diseases that have disfigured the face and features have left them as clean and wholesome as nature intended them to be. Cases of Eczema, or Salt Rheum, Tetter, Rash—cases after case of so-called skin diseases which have been brought to bay by the marvelous tonic effects of S. S. S. Tell-tale Scrofula no longer has its terrors, for the famous remedy, like a guardian angel, stands ready to banish it. The chief thing for the sufferer from blood diseases, and Rheumatism is one of the worst of them, is to realize that they cannot be cured by rubbing, by douches of hot water, salves, lotions or any outward or external treatment. These remedies that soothe often do no more than aggravate the trouble in the long run. Believe that even pimples are the danger signal of bad blood and treat the blood and not the pimple and the relief is sure.

Medical advice is free to any sufferer from blood disorders or skin diseases. You know your symptoms. This is the opportunity to secure special advice from Physicians who have for fifty years been making a study of blood diseases, particularly Poison Blood, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Eczema, the hardening of blood vessels from old age. Write today for special advice. Avoid substitutes. If you suffer from any of the troubles mentioned go straight to your druggist and get a bottle of S. S. S.—then write us. MILWAUKEE CLIPS
FORTY MINUTES
OFF MAIL TIME

Will Travel From La Crosse to St Paul in Three Hours and Fifteen Minutes

The fastest train on the entire system of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad will be run through La Crosse commencing next Sunday morning, according to advices received by local trainmen. The change is brought about by a revision of the time schedule affecting fast mail train No. 101. Although the new schedule has not been received at the local offices of the road, it has become known that the mail train will make the distance of 157 miles from La Crosse to St. Paul in three hours and fifteen minutes, under the new schedule. About four hours is the time of the run at present.

The new schedule will come into effect next Sunday morning. Train No. 101 is the early morning fast mail train from Chicago to Minneapolis, and under the new schedule will be obliged to cover the run from the Windy city to the Twin cities in ten and one-half hours, cutting off a full hour from the present schedule, which requires eleven and one-half hours.

A peculiar feature of the new schedule produced that forty minutes of the hour which will be cut off in the run, will be made up in the run from La Crosse to Minneapolis. The time will be gained by a more systematic arrangement by handling the mail at the cities, and in St. Paul the stop has been reduced to four minutes, despite the large volume of mail to be thrown off.

The mail train has carried passengers as far west as New Lisbon, from whence it is strictly a mail train. It is not known definitely whether passengers will be carried as far west as New Lisbon under the new schedule or not.

Cards May Be Issued to Conserve Supply as Was Done with Bread

BERLIN FOOD PRICES

Roast beef, 35 cents per pound.
Roast veal, 40 cents per pound.
Veal cutlets, 58 cents per pound.
Pork, 49 cents per pound.
Ham, 65 cents per pound.
Bacon, 58 to 61 cents per pound.
Butter, 58 to 61 cents per pound.
Eggs, 5 cents each.

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN (United Press Staff Correspondent.)
BERLIN, Oct. 15, by Mail.—Berlin faces the need for milk cards.

Housekeepers are not as much worried by this, however, as by the mysterious ten penny a week rise in food prices. Ten pennings is about two cents. For the past two months food prices have been climbing skyward at that weekly rate.

A few months ago a bread scarcity was what everyone feared. To guard against it bread cards were originated. When it was reported that milk was growing scarce, milk cards were suggested immediately. From the fact that whipped cream is forbidden already in Austria-Hungary, from the rising price of butter and from milk dealers' unwillingness to increase deliveries, cards seem probable.

If milk cards do come, it is said, only families with children will be allowed good supplies.

Prices of butter have increased three cents per pound in the past week. Even cooking butter costs 50 to 54 cents.

Considering the scarcity of pork fat, or lard, which is so abundant in the United States at 10 to 15 cents, American housekeepers can understand what it means to Berlin housewives to have to pay five times that much for the one article used in preparing every meal.

In both Germany and Austria-Hungary food prices have been increasing rapidly since spring.

Germany, however, is still economically better off than her ally.

The people believe that as soon as a way is cut through Serbia, and Bulgaria and Turkey are in direct communication with Berlin, food-stuffs will cost less, for Bulgaria and Turkey both are said to be stocked with foods the German allies need.

Bulgaria to Ship Grain
SOFIA, via Berlin and London, Nov. 2.—German home office delegates were here today to arrange for the export of Bulgarian grain to Austria-Hungary by way of the new route opened through northeastern Serbia. It was believed all food shortages in the Germanic countries would speedily be relieved thus.

HOW ANY WOMAN CAN DRY CLEAN

Put gasoline and solvite in a wash boiler and save five dollars.

Here's a way to make soiled or dingy-looking wearing apparel look like new. Any woman can easily clean and restore the original color and brightness to kid gloves and shoes, neckties, ribbons, silks, satins, jaces, net-work, yokes, fur, shirt-waists, children's coats, suits, caps, woolen garments, swiss, lawn, organdy and chiffon dresses, draperies, rugs, in fact, any and everything that would be ruined with soap and water.

Get two ounces of solvite at any drug store and put it in two gallons of gasoline, where it quickly dissolves, then put in the goods to be cleaned, rub a little and out they come looking clean, bright and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing.

It only takes a few moments to do what dry-cleaning establishments would charge five dollars or more for. It is simple as ordinary laundering and you can't make a mistake. Any druggist will supply two ounces of solvite, which is simply a gasoline soap and you can obtain the gasoline at any grocery or garage. Then a wash boiler or large dishpan will complete your dry-cleaning outfit. As gasoline is very inflammable, be sure to do your dry-cleaning out of doors or in a room away from fire or flame, with the windows left open.

ACROBATIC TRIO NEW BILL LEADER

"September Morn in Africa" Title of Chief Offering of New La Crosse Bill

The Three Rianos, comedy acrobatic artists and jokers direct from some of the biggest theaters, will feature five acts of vaudeville in the La Crosse theater's week-end program starting with tomorrow's matinee. The Rianos offer an entire novelty in the acrobatic line with a skit they call "September Morn in Africa." While their number is filled to the brim with fun, the humorously inclined vaudeville patron will find still more fun scattered through the bill.

La Petite Elva, said to be the youngest actress in America and known on many vaudeville circuits as "The Toy Comedienne," will present songs, nifty little dances and characterizations.

Clinton and Dooney, whom theatrical men call "That Dainty Pair," will entertain with a quarter of an hour's singing and dancing and joke telling.

Nat Leffingwell and Marion Gale come to the local playhouse in a comedy sketch, "The Sleepwalker," after a long series of engagements with the playlet all over the country. To see the skit is to laugh continuously from curtain to curtain.

Rounding out the bill is an unusual act of clever roller skaters and society dancers, presented by a nifty vaudeville couple. They show the latest on wheels, and top their program with a series of the latest dances.

The Final Call Of The Charity Ball

The management of the Charity Ball calls attention to the fact that people who have received tickets on their option will greatly facilitate the work of the committee by promptly making known their decision. Of course, in the interest of a most worthy charity, the committee earnestly hopes that wherever possible replies will come in the form of checks.

"Preparedness" is the watchword of the general committee for the Charity Ball of which the grand march will not fail for lack of brilliant leadership, for today Mrs. R. B. Gelatt announced the following list of leaders:

Mr. Stanley Gordon, Miss Laura Cunningham; Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Toland; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fellows; Mr. and Mrs. D. G. MacMillan; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Hixon; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lees; Mr. and Mrs. Alex Paul.

Field marshals—we shall not say "floor managers" in this military years—are Messrs. Andrew Lees, Stanley Gordon and Alex Moll.

The additions to the usual orchestra program preliminary to the dancing are being received with approval. Anticipation of again enjoying the singing of Miss Anna Hickisch adds pleasure to the prospect, and interest is displayed in the fancy dancing number for which is promised an artistic success.

The committees are working effectively, and everything points to a highly satisfactory outcome artistically, socially and financially.

Favorite Stoves and Ranges

Over Sixty Years of It —All the Name Implies

It takes the most complete Stove and Range plant in the world—this is a recognized fact.

It takes the very best of materials and manufacturing methods.

It takes the most expert workmen—every man is a specialist in his line.

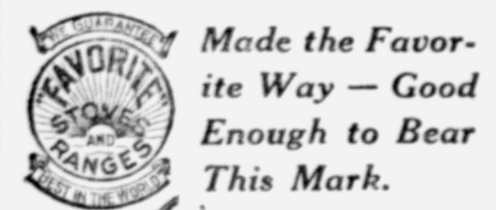

It takes the originality and initiative, the makers of the Favorite have set the styles. Others follow as closely as they can.

It takes special machinery. There are many machines in the Favorite Stove and Range plant that are to be found in no other factory of its kind in the world.

It costs more to make patterns because the very best of material is used, and the highest priced pattern makers are employed.

It takes expert skill and constant endeavor to keep Favorites in the lead—and there's where the makers have always kept them.

Come and see our Favorites and when you have learned how good they are, and have compared them with the other makes, they will be your Favorites, too.

VIOLA VETERAN INVITES KICKAPOO VALLEY TO HIS CENTENARIAN CELEBRATION

VIOLA, Wis., Nov. 3.—If men are only as old as they feel then Uncle Tommy Edwards of Viola is only about 25, although the records say he was born while Madison was president. His father had crossed the Mississippi in Daniel Boone's company and was living 12 miles from Booneville, Mo., on Feb. 16, 1816, when the baby, who was named Thomas Jefferson Edwards, was born. The baby was of pioneer stock on both sides; his mother was a Tip-ton and a cousin of Davy Crockett. Edwards enlisted as soon as he heard that Fort Sumter had been fired upon. His company became part of the Army of the Potomac, and he passed uninjured through all the fighting in which that army took part. Seven young men from his town were in the same company and he was a big brother to them and watched over them all through the war.

Believes in Prayer
Two or three of these boys tell stories of how Uncle Tommy saved their lives, but he explains it differently. He says: "Our people were all praying people, and two or three times a week they met and prayed for our safety." His voice trembled as he continued: "Everyone of us came home, and four of the seven are still alive." Uncle Tommy has offered his services to his country in three wars. He was enrolled for the Mexican war, but the company was over-listed, so all the married men were sent home. He offered to go to the Spanish war, but, of course, was too old to be accepted. Widely known as "Uncle Tommy," although Mr. Edwards is so soon to be a century old, no one thinks of applying the adjective "venerable" to him. From one end of the Kickapoo valley to the other he is known as Uncle Tommy. Everyone for miles around counts on going to his birth day parties. For twenty-eight years it has been the custom for all his friends to come with baskets full of good things to help him celebrate his natal day. For more than six months he has been inviting everyone he meets to his centennial birthday.

Consistent Optimist
He attributes his long life to the fact that he always tries to be cheerful and does not think of himself as old.

"Why, bless your heart," he says with a hearty laugh, "I'm not old. I'm going to get married on my 100th birthday if I can find anyone who wants to take a boy to raise. I asked one widow, but she said she was afraid I wouldn't walk in the way I should go after she took all the trouble of raising me." He chuckled at the joke, but then said with a little shake in his voice: "Of course, that's just fun. There never was but one woman for me, and she left me seven years ago." Uncle Tommy feels almost insulted if one treats him as though he were old. He never misses marching in a Memorial day parade or sitting on the platform at Fourth of July celebration. He is the only survivor in this part of the country of the Battle of Gettysburg and can call from memory the entire roll of Company H, Fifth Wisconsin Infantry.

M'CALL ELECTED OVER WALSH IN MASSACHUSETTS

by the candidate of the republican organization, Thomas B. Smith, up-state New York, showed slight republican gains. But in New York city Tammany made a clean sweep of county and city tickets, electing Judge Swann, its candidate for district attorney, by 34,000. Enough Tammany assemblers were elected in New York to give the democrats a gain of two votes in the state assembly, the republicans losing one and the progressives one.

No straight progressive candidate will sit in the next New York legislature, though there will be many fusion republican-progressive and democratic-progressive members. Democrats have been fighting against themselves in Massachusetts while the republicans and progressives united behind Mr. McCall.

The republicans gained one congressman as a result of yesterday's elections in New York and Pennsylv-vania—the only states in which voting for congressional seats figured. The gain made by the republicans was in the Twenty-third New York district, where W. S. Bennett was elected.

In the Twenty-fourth Pennsylvania district, H. W. Temple, a former progressive who was beaten for re-election by a republican in 1914, was a candidate on the republican ticket this year to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the republican who defeated him. He was elected.

The democrats lost one seat through the defeat of Ellsworth J. Healy by Bennett in the Twenty-third New York.

Other congressmen elected were Bertrand Snell, in the Thirty-third New York district and Norman S. Gould in the Thirty-sixth. The latter fills the vacancy left by Seneca E. Payne.

VILLISTAS GIVE UP THE FIGHT AND MANY SURRENDER

and total casualties estimated at 500 in both Mexican armies. When Villa would attack was uncertain.

General Funston took measures to prevent further loss of life on the American side. Only an unexpected deliberate offensive against Douglas would lead to an armed clash between the American troops on guard here and either Mexican army. Nevertheless, seven more troops of cavalry reinforced Funston. After a hazardous trip along the boundary during which Mexican bullets kicked up the dust around his party, General Funston declared himself steadfastly against forcibly intervening in the fighting across the border.

Villa obtained food and water for his men after their defeat and retirement yesterday. His army afterward returned to their former lines south and east of Agua Prieta and opened siege operations with salvos of artillery. The night passed comparatively quietly.

Private Harry Jones, Company C, Eleventh Infantry, died of his wound in the stomach. Louis Taylor, the waiter wounded in Monday's fighting, was still in a critical condition today. The eight other wounded Americans were recovering.

Walsh of Massachusetts by the republicans. At republican headquarters the same cause was assigned for election of a democratic governor in Maryland.

Walsh's defeat was regarded as the most significant political barometer, although the administration feels the small republican majority aided by return of progressives "to the fold" disputed claims of a republican sweep.

Elimination of the progressive vote and defeat of the New York constitution, in its bearing on Senator Root's presidential boom, were regarded as the chief political straws of 1916. Loss by the progressives of legal party status in Massachusetts and general return of bull moose elsewhere to the republican party were considered significant.

Political opinion was divided today whether Root's candidacy would be harmed by defeat of the New York constitution.

WIVES AND MOTHERS

Have you ever stopped to realize how much the health of your family depends upon you? For instance, diet is a great factor in health, and you are responsible for it, then again when any member of your family gets into a run-down condition, when the children are delicate, cross and ailing, when somebody takes cold and develops a cough, they look to you for help. Do you know that our local druggists, Hoeschler Bros., have a non-secret constitutional remedy known as Vinol which they guard for just such conditions. Many families in this vicinity have found it so reliable they are never without it.

GOOD WILL MARKS SEMI-CENTENNIAL OF KRONER FIRM

Neighborly Spirit Prevails in Anniversary Week at South Third Street Store

DECORATIONS ARE APPROPRIATE

Schafer's Art Provides Embellishments in Keeping With the Occasion and Surroundings

That pride of ancestry, which is a characteristic of the older East, is coming to manifest itself in the younger West is demonstrated by the interest and neighborly feeling attending the fiftieth anniversary of the Fred Kroner Hardware company which is being celebrated all this week in the company's retail store, 116-118 South Third street.

A TRIBUNE reporter who visited the store this morning was impressed by the neighborly good will conveyed in the greeting of citizens who thronged in and out of the place, shaking hands cordially, accepting for just the community feeling which it conveyed the friendly courtesy of a carnation or a cigar. The presence of President John C. Kroner, as pleased as a boy among his pals, accentuated the feeling which the Kroner brothers have for their semi-centennial—that it is to "honor thy father" and to give expression to the social phase of the community spirit which makes modern business a friendly occupation and its votaries congenial associates.

The decorations of the store, arranged by Mr. C. E. Schafer, are peculiarly appropriate. Great branches of bronze oak leaves, in their strength typical of the substantiality of things of iron and steel; in the age of the oak suggestive of the long life of the Kroner business, furnish a unique background for hangings of Alabama smilax set off by luxuriant yellow chrysanthemums. To right and left of the doors potted ferns, with carnations giving just a touch of heightened color, are friendly sentinels of welcome, and throughout the store, not too thickly interspersed, other flowers afford the right variety to a pleasing ensemble.

"We are enjoying this," said John Kroner. With respect for seniority, his brothers always push their reluctant president to the front upon such occasions, but they are making business a definitely secondary consideration and all of them are imbued with the spirit of the anniversary.

"We all have our little anniversaries and special occasions," continued Mr. Kroner, "and this one of ours makes us feel that it is a privilege to be a part of so generous and friendly a community."

Here the reporter was elbowed out by a group of visitors waiting to extend congratulations, and he went out into the street feeling that La Crosse is indeed a city of friends and neighbors.

THREE STATES GO AGAINST WOMEN'S RIGHTS AT POLLS

Pittsburgh piled up a heavy vote against. But about half of the Pennsylvania counties heard from early today reported majorities in favor of suffrage, the city vote winning out the rural majorities for the suffragists.

In three eastern states that balloted yesterday, suffrage rolled up an estimated total of 1,016,000 votes. The votes of those opposed totaled about 1,485,000.

Two out of every five men in New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts cast their ballots in favor of suffrage.

Figures Engender Hope
It is these figures that gave the suffrage leaders hope today. They pointed out that their organizations are intact and that they have the experience of one campaign behind them for use in the next effort, unless they win suffrage from congress or the state legislatures. They pointed, too, to these significant facts:

In New York state, suffrage received more votes yesterday than were cast for either Taft or Roosevelt in 1912 and more than were cast for Governor Glynn, democrat, in 1914.

In Massachusetts suffrage received more votes than Taft or Roosevelt in 1912.

In Pennsylvania, early returns indicated suffrage received more than 100,000 votes more than did Taft in 1912; 10,000 to 30,000 more votes than did President Wilson in 1912 and nearly as many votes as Colonel Roosevelt who carried the state.

Peace Talk Given Impetus When French Ambassador Sees President

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—A revival of interest in possible peace maneuvers occurred today when Ambassador Jusserand of France asked for a conference with President Wilson. He was granted an appointment with the executive at two o'clock.

In asking for the appointment, Jusserand said he desired personally to thank the executive for interceding recently in behalf of two French women who had been condemned to death by the Germans on a charge of espionage.

Notwithstanding the announced purpose of the ambassador's call and the speech of Premier Briand today, declaring against any peace that did not accompany victory, Washington is firm in the belief that a peace move is likely soon. Officials have expected the move to come through some diplomat in Washington and for that reason Jusserand's visit to the White House was the subject of much comment.

Voodoo Charm is Given Judge to Cure Rheumatism

Hamlin Garland, the author, at his West Salem summer home, and Judge Brindley of La Crosse, were writing letters of sympathy to each other last summer, being troubled with similar physical ailments. At length Mr. Garland wrote the judge saying, "What we need is a rabbit's foot—a left hind foot from a rabbit caught in a graveyard at midnight in the dark of the moon by a cross-eyed negro."

James McConnell, 1421 Avon street, friend of the judge, hearing of this, set about to supply him the needed article, and finally practically succeeded. He has secured and presented to the judge the left hind foot of a jack-rabbit caught at midnight in the dark of the moon in a graveyard at Pipestone, Minn., by a cross-eyed mulatto. Now a jack-rabbit is a rabbit, and a mulatto is a negro according to all the rules and regulations of society as viewed by white people, and good results may be expected. This rabbit foot as a cure for rheumatism, when carried by a patient, is said to be much better than an iron ring worn on the finger or a potato carried in the pocket, and is fully equal to making a pet of and carrying about a live gila monster. Mr. McConnell is expecting results which may create a great demand for articles of this sort.

EASTERN STAR HONORS OFFICER

About 150 people, members of Ruth chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, Monday night enjoyed at the North Side Masonic Temple an elaborate reception and banquet for Mrs. Abbie Carter, 1807 Charles street, in honor of her election to the position of Grand Conductress in the state chapter of the order at the twenty-fifth anniversary meeting held recently in Milwaukee. The position accorded Mrs. Carter is the third highest in the state chapter.

The function was given under the general direction of Mrs. B. F. Stork, worthy matron of Ruth chapter, while W. W. Cameron, worthy patron of the local chapter, officiated as toastmaster.

Several grand officers and past grand officers of the state chapter attended the reception, including Mrs. May Grimshaw of Elroy, assistant past grand matron, Mrs. Elizabeth Little of Portage, past grand matron and past grand lecturer of the state chapter, J. E. Florin of Menominee, a past grand patron of the order, owing to pressure of business, was unable to attend, and sent a letter congratulating Mrs. Carter upon her appointment to office and expressing his regret at being unable to come to La Crosse for the function. The letter was read to the banqueters.

The address of welcome was delivered by Mrs. Stork, worthy matron of Ruth chapter. Mrs. Carter, in response, thanked the members of Ruth chapter for their recognition of the position given her in the state chapter, and presented the chapter with a picture of the grand officers taken at Milwaukee on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary.

John E. Langdon, grand high king of the state order of Masons, spoke on the Order of Eastern Star.

First Patron Talks
Perhaps the most enjoyable address was that by John E. Wilson, first patron of Ruth chapter. He reviewed the growth of the order since its organization twenty-seven years ago. Addresses were also made by Mesdames Grimshaw and Little.

W. P. Mailer and Mrs. Anderson, worthy patron and worthy matron, respectively, of the Galesville chapter, which was invited to the function, made short addresses.

Following the banquet, a special business meeting was held, when two applicants were initiated into the order.

The color scheme used in the banquet was yellow and white, carried out with flowers, plants and ferns.

Municipal Ownership Is Given Setback In Detroit And Cleveland

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 3.—Final figures today on yesterday's special election showed decisive defeat of the city street railway commission's plan for acquiring the property of the Detroit United Railway. Complete returns showed: Yes, 32,628; No, 35,585.

A three-fifths vote was required for ratification of the plan.

Defeat of the plan is not regarded here as a defeat for municipal ownership. The theory of municipal ownership already has been endorsed by the voters of Detroit and the vote yesterday was merely on the proposed plan for bringing the street car system under city ownership and control.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 3.—All municipal issues except two—a bond issues of $1,500,000 to wipe out a deficiency and a socialist' initiative proposal to buy the street railways for $34,000,000—carried.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your Kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

General Holway Chosen Head Of The State Guard

Brigadier General Orlando Holway, Formerly of La Crosse

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 3.—Brigadier General Orlando Holway of Merrillan, Wis., was elected president of the national guard at the closing session of the annual training and instruction school here today. Other officers chosen were: Vice presidents, Colonel R. A. Richards, Sparta; Colonel W. M. Lee, Oconto; and Colonel J. P. Joachim, Madison; honorary vice presidents, General C. R. Boardman, Oshkosh; General Charles E. King, Milwaukee; and Colonel W. R. Morrison, U. S. army; secretary, Colonel J. G. Salaman, Madison; treasurer, Captain P. B. Clemens, Superior.

"KEY" KAREL HERE TABOOS POLITICS

It wasn't politics—just plain ordinary business that brought Judge John C. Karel of Milwaukee to La Crosse today, the judge insisted to a reporter who discovered him talking wolf-hunts with Registrar in Probate John Costley.

"Don't know anything about politics," the judge declared. "This is the off season. I'm just here to complete the sale of some property."

Judge Karel held a small-sized reception at the Stoddard hotel about 11:30, when word got to his scores of friends that he was in the city. He left shortly after noon for Milwaukee.

"Sparta next" is the slogan at the high this week. By the comparative scores route, it does look like the Red and Black's game by a big margin. Sparta, that the team might be in the best trim for the big game, has not played a game for two weeks. The Red and Yellow also always seem to take a particular pleasure in playing their best game and hardest against their oldest and most bitter rival, La Crosse.

La Crosse students are making this the biggest out of town game of the season. A large black can stood in the main hallway all last week waiting for 5 cent contributions to take the West Salem band to the scene of battle. Jitneys clicked with a will and undoubtedly the rooters will have the "tooters" to fall back on when their lungs give out.

History of the Game
In 1907, "Swede" Dalgren's team, playing in hard luck, was defeated in two games. In 1908 Sparta, with their trio of stars, Abrahamson, Jefferson and Evans, won two more games. A different system of scoring was in use then, a touchdown counting 5 and a dropkick 4. The first game, 8 to 0, was a clear victory for Sparta, but "Butch" Tourtelotte's men deserved the second, scoring two touchdowns against Sparta's three dropkicks. The next year L. C. with "Fitch" Shaw leading, gave the Spartans a good drubbing to the tune of 17 to 0. In 1910 and 1911, no games were played as Sparta insisted on playing ineligible men. In 1912 relations were resumed to the regret of Sparta, Wiebrecht's men tramping on them to a score of 36 to 7. The next year Sparta found new hopes in the Nichols brothers, Younger Jefferson and Button and became champions of the state for the first time since 1907 and 1908. They were barely able to defeat La Crosse 13 to 10. In 1914, the Red and Black followed "Walt" Shirley's 1910 action in coping the championship, defeating Sparta by a score of 12 to 7.

Sparta has won but one game this year, defeating New Lisbon 51 to 7. They have made only 18 points outside of this game while their opponents have scored 54. The game will be played on Friday, there being no school Thursday and Friday of this week. Sparta is to send a block of advance sale tickets and undoubtedly two hundred boosters will be with the team.

Sparta Ready
SPARTA, Wis., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—The La Crosse-Sparta football game which will be fought out here at the fair grounds next Friday, will probably be one of the most interesting games of the season. La Crosse, ever an old rival, has an enviable record for the first part of this year's season, while Sparta has been defeated in two games, by close scores. According to the "dope" there is no hope for the Spartans, but as has always been shown in Sparta-La Crosse games, there is a spirit in the two teams when they meet which has a

Dillon Serious Contender For Willard's Crown

Indianapolis Man Pumps Weinert
Full of Holes and Now Will Probably Meet Moran

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Before Frank Moran, Gunboat Smith, or any of our other leading heavyweight lights can hope to be considered the foremost contender for Willard's crown they must dispose of Jack Dillon of Indianapolis. The Bear Cat proved conclusively to a crowd that packed Madison Square garden Monday that he is one of the best, if not the best, light heavyweights in the country by administering a terrific lacing to young Charley Weinert, who was being groomed to meet the champion.

Outweighed by fifteen pounds, outstretched by six inches, Dillon pumped right arm jabs into Weinert's stomach until he pulled his head down within reach. Then he came near knocking it off. The winner of last night's mix is supposed to get a match with Moran. Today there was real speculation among New York sporting writers as to what chance the Hoosier would have against the Giant Willard.

One thing they were all agreed on: That was Moran cannot call himself a runner up to the champion until he has met and licked Dillon. And that is a man-sized job.

Always placing blame on others for what goes wrong with us disables us from avoiding repetition of it mistakes.—Albany Journal.

habit of rendering a whole season's dope invalid. The Sparta boys are working hard under Coach Bouchard and hope to keep La Crosse from a very easy victory.

The probable lineup for the Friday game: Alec Nicol, center; Alfred Johnson and Bruce Gould, ends; Carl Berry and Fay Farnham, tackles; Harvey Hoffman, quarterback; Alex Gibbon, fullback; Kenneth McConnell and Patrick Kelley, halfbacks; John Nicol, Coss and William Benedict, substitutes.

DAYS OF MONOPOLY ARE PAST FOR BIG SCHOOLS OF EAST

Yale, Harvard and Princeton Have Seen the Worm Turn And They Have Suffered

After all, some of the greatest athletes in the business have come up from the small colleges. Christy Mathewson came from Bucknell; Eddie Plank emerged from Gettysburg; Holy Cross produced Jack Barry; Carlisle turned out in Thorpe, America's all around champion athletes—and so on indefinitely.

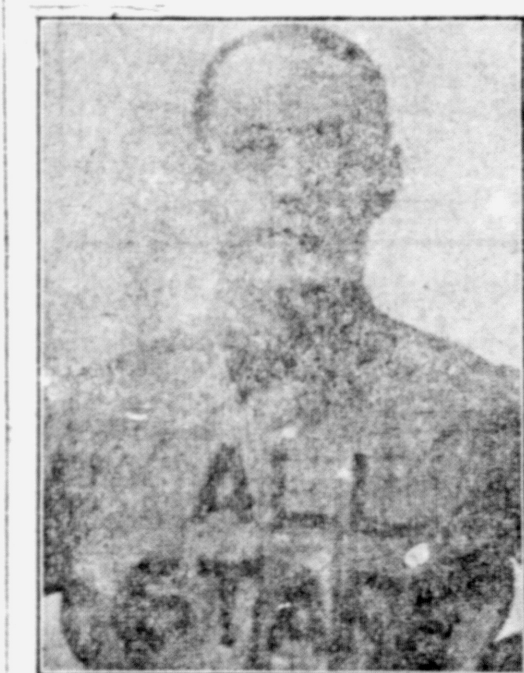

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The halcyon days when the "Big Three" in the eastern collegiate world—Harvard, Yale and Princeton—used to pick on their smaller brethren during the football season, seem fast slipping away. The well known "worm" has completed a somersault. Hardly a season passes now that some little college with a handful of students and a million dollars worth of grit and pep doesn't hand either Yale, Harvard or Princeton a swift kick in the slats on the gridiron.

This year, eleven huskies from down Virginia way turned the trick on Yale, and so did Colgate. Last year, little Washington and Jefferson did it, the year before that Colgate smothered the Blue. And going still further back, it is found that the Army, Brown and Lafayette all have taken a whack at the Big Ones in the last half dozen years.

This tends to revive that somewhat moss-covered question of whether the trend of the times isn't toward the smaller schools. Athletically, it seems to be. In schools such as Harvard, Yale or Princeton there are far more fellows of athletic ability in the student body of four or five thousand than there are places on the team. So the budding young prep school athlete with a lot of ambition to "make the team" would rather go to the smaller school where his chances are greater.

JUNEAU CALLS ON SECOND STRING MEN TO BOLSTER TEAM

All of Varsity Line Except Buck Sent to Second
Team; Gunderson
Gets Chance

(By Irving M. Tuteur.)
MADISON, Wis., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—The expected shakeup in the varsity football squad came yesterday afternoon when Coach Juneau relegated most of his first team linemen to the second eleven and put the second team men in their places. When the shift was completed Captain "Cub" Buck, whose wonderful playing at Chicago stood out above everything else in the game, was the only varsity lineman left on the team.

Thus composed the "new varsity eleven," as it was called here today, succeeded in gaining almost at will against the freshmen, although costly fumbles, due to the dusk, kept the score down. When the men were sent to the showers the varsity had chalked up but one touchdown. This tally was made by Quarterback Eber Simpson on a 20 yard run around end.

To encourage the players and show them that the student body is not discouraged by the unexpected defeat at Chicago a crowd of over 500 students turned out to watch the practice and scrimmage.

Juneau's determination to change the linemen left an opening for Borge Gunderson of La Crosse at the center position. Gunderson went through the entire signal practice and scrimmage playing on the first eleven, and chances are good that he will remain there for the rest of the season.

"Eddie" Stavrum of La Crosse ran through signal practice as end on the first squad, but did not participate in the scrimmage. Stavrum played with a wrenched shoulder throughout most of the Chicago contest, and will be given a rest for the next few days. "Boots" Weimar of La Crosse succeeded the fleet Dow Byers at the halfback berth for a good share of the scrimmage yesterday, and

SPIRITED FIGHT LOOKED FOR

Coaches of Several Conference Teams Expected to Wage Bitter
Contest

BY J. P. YODER

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Signs are in the air for a big fight against the summer baseball rule when next the powers that be in western college athletics get together. Reports from Iowa say that if nobody starts it, the Hawkeye representatives to the next conference will start the ball rolling up organized opposition to the present rule.

The disqualification of Captain Lorin Solon at Minneapolis and the world of gossip regarding how other middle west stars spent their summers has brought the matter to a head. Everyone out this way admits to himself, if not openly, that there would have been other fish in the net if it had been drawn more tightly.

There is every indication, of course, that strong opposition will meet any suggestion that the summer baseball rule be changed, just as has always been the case. But this year, according to the coaches of several conference teams that have played here this fall, the fight to kill the rule will be more vigorously and more openly waged than ever before.

Business is booming!

Dayton, Ohio.

Merchants everywhere tell our 800 salesmen that business is booming.

Farmers have had two record crops, at big prices, with big demand at home and abroad.

Stocks of manufactured material are short, and labor is in great demand.

Exports largely exceed imports.

Factories are busy, many working overtime.

More freight cars are needed, and steamers are taxed to capacity.

People are living better, and spending their money more freely.

This country has the best money in the world, and more of it than ever before.

Such a combination of favorable circumstances never has occurred before, and probably will never occur again.

Billions of dollars are passing over the merchants' counters.

The people who spend this money want the best service.

They demand it in all kinds of stores, from the smallest to the largest.

They get it in stores which use our up-to-date Cash Registers, which quicken service, stop mistakes, satisfy customers, and increase profits.

Over a million merchants have proved our Cash Registers to be a business necessity.

SCORE OF SPARTA BOYS FACE JUDGE FOR GHOST PRANKS

Citizens Get Sore When Hallowe'en Lasts a Week and Everything Movable Disappears

SPARTA, Wis., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—More than a score of Sparta school boys, sons of some of the most prominent men in the city, are today facing Judge Lamson on charges of "going too far" with Hallowe'en pranks, preferred by Chief of Police Millard.

The boys commenced celebrating Hallowe'en last Tuesday. Fences were smashed, gates were taken off, door mats were missing, and in fact everything movable disappeared, even wagons were transferred to outlying lots.

Chief Millard was besieged with a hundred complaints, and he started an investigation. A dozen boys were rounded up. They were not arrested, but promised to help repair the damage and pay for what was unreparable. Robert Sexton was the only one of the number who failed to show up and he was placed in the city lockup for a time. Four of the boys were scheduled for a court hearing this afternoon.

It is expected that fifteen or more additional miscreants will be rounded up today, and if Chief Millard's plan is carried out, the number will reach twenty-five or thirty.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

This question is asked every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but often due to disordered blood or lack of important food-elements. In changing seasons fat-foods are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the system better able to withstand the varying elements. This is the important reason why Scott's Emulsion should always be taken for colds, and it does more—builds strength to prevent sickness. Scott's Emulsion contains Nature's rare strength-building fats, so skillfully blended that the blood profits from every drop. It is free from harmful drugs or alcohol. Sold at drug stores—always get the genuine.

GIRLS! MOISTEN A CLOTH AND DRAW IT THROUGH HAIR

It becomes beautifully soft, wavy, abundant and glossy at once.

Save your hair! All dandruff goes and hair stops coming out.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

Save your hair! Keep it looking charming and beautiful. You will say this was the best 25 cents you ever spent.

THE SILO

Wherein is Fodder for Farmers

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 3.—Roy T. Harris, supervisor of Wisconsin Dairy Tests, reports that nearly 14,000 cows owned by Badger dairymen have been tested for milk and butter fat production since this work was first started in 1933.

As Wisconsin has long led in this work it is not improbable that this number exceeded that of any other state.

Of the cows tested during the 22 year period 9,375 were Holsteins, 3,100 Guernseys, 850 Jerseys, 110 Ayrshires, 80 Brown Swiss, 180 Red Polls and of the remainder 210 were grades.

Up to a year or more ago this work was carried on under the direction of F. W. Woll, now with the University of California.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 3.—Badger-grown flint corn has been selected for special trial by Australian officials, according to advice received by J. J. Garland of the Wisconsin Agricultural Experimental association, C. K. Harrison, secretary of the Australian exhibits at the Panama-Pacific exposition, has ordered a quantity of Wisconsin grown White, Yellow, King Phillip and Smut Nose corn. The seed will be sent to Australia this winter.

MARRIAGE DECLINE NOT ENTIRELY DUE TO EUGENIC LAW

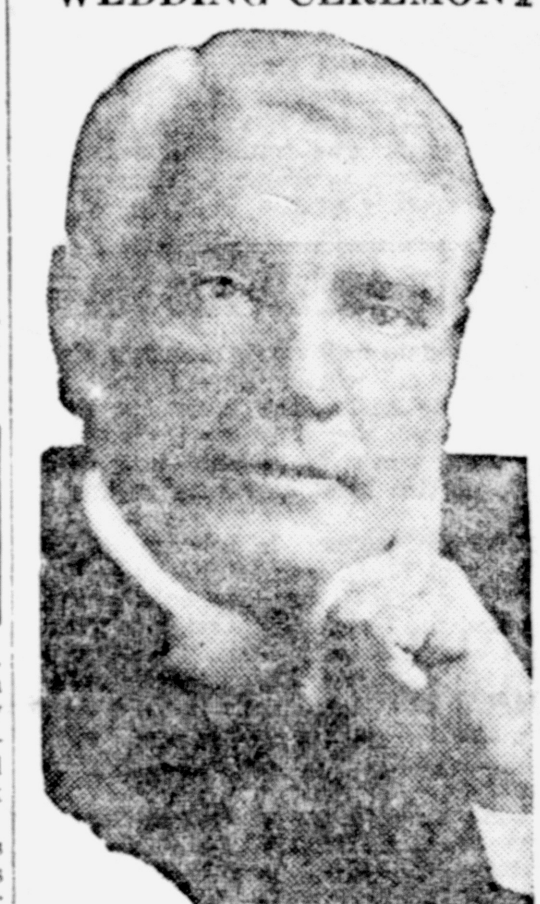

Economic Conditions Factor in Situation; Actual Numbers Unimportant Matter

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 3.—That general economic conditions are a large factor contributing to the decline in the Wisconsin marriage rate, and that the eugenics marriage law is only partly responsible, is maintained by the state board of health. The year 1914 saw 3,807 fewer marriages in Wisconsin than in 1913. The board is convinced, from a study of statistics of other states and countries, that financial depression seriously retards marriage. The marriage rate is greatly affected by any financial disturbance, revealing itself almost immediately in a decline. Throughout the country, also, statistics show a marked decline in the marriage rate.

"Thoughtful persons who know of the ravages of venereal diseases will agree," says a health board bulletin, "that the actual number of marriages occurring in the state during any given period of time is not nearly so important to our posterity as the general healthfulness of the contracting parties."

Farm management surveys are being conducted within small areas in different counties of the state by the United States department of agriculture and local leaders. One such area near Omro, Winnebago county, has just been completed, while two others, one in Wood county and another in Walworth county, will soon be under way.

EIGHT BODIES ARE RECOVERED FROM WRECKED STEAMER

Boat Strikes Jetty on Oregon Coast and Breaks in Thirty Minutes

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Nov. 3.—The bodies of eight dead passengers, taken from the steamer Santa Clara, wrecked yesterday, arrived here today with seventy-five survivors, who spent a night of horror in bad weather on the open beach at Bastendorff. Other passengers and seamen may have been lost. The purser's records were lost. Several women and children were aboard.

Most of the victims were drowned or dashed to death on the rocks when two small boats capsized.

The Santa Clara struck on the south jetty of Coos Bay, 170 miles south of Astoria, Oregon, late yesterday. It was reported that sixteen persons perished, including Captain Gus Lofstad.

The ship broke up in thirty minutes. Aid from Marshfield and other Coos Bay points was rushed to the jetty and rescue work was conducted under immense difficulties and danger to the live-savers.

The dead included Miss Madeline Rooney and a Mrs. Hale of South Bend, Indiana.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks to kind neighbors and friends who assisted me in my late bereavement. Especially do I thank the Rev. Magelssen and all who sent floral offerings.

ENTERTAIN YOUNG PEOPLE

The Young People's society of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church was entertained in the church parlors last night by Mesdames A. Lystad, Otto Nustad and Edward Pynn. The parlors were packed with members of the church and friends. A delightful program was rendered, featured by an address by Abner C. Gran, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

DO YOU DREAD THE COLD?

Some people enjoy cold weather, take pleasure in winter sports and the keen air calls the pink to their cheeks and the red to their lips. Others shrink from cold and turn blue at the least exposure to frosty air.

The difference is in the blood. Rich, red blood warms the body. Every long breath of pure cold air increases the oxygen it carries to every part of the system. Thin blood is unable to take up the life-sustaining oxygen. The body lacks nourishment and the sufferer is always cold, takes a chill easily and is miserable all winter.

Thin blood is largely the sufferer's own fault. It results from neglect, because the blood can be built up. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills supply the elements that the blood needs to make it rich and red and to enable it to carry more oxygen. Building up the red portion of the blood is simple but because thin blood does not call attention to itself it is often neglected. Have you seriously considered taking a course of treatment with these bloodmaking pills? If you are in doubt write for information.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will send you a booklet "Building Up the Blood" free on request.

KING HAS BAD NIGHT

LONDON, Nov. 3.—King George did not pass Tuesday night as comfortably as hitherto, his physicians admitted today. He still suffered pain, they stated, from the bruises inflicted when his horse fell with him last week. His general condition, however, was said to be improved. He is able to take solid food.

FIRE DESTRUCTIVE

LAURIUM, Mich., Nov. 3.—Fire partly destroyed the Monro and Daniels business block here and caused a loss of $45,000. The firms of J. J. Arnovitz, J. E. Foisey and F. H. Tantz suffered heavily from the blaze. The fire was caused by a defective furnace.

WATERPOWERIDEA IS EXPLAINED BY SENATOR BOSSHARD

History of Fight to Save
Power Sources for People in Wisconsin Recounted at Normal

LAST LEGISLATURE IS SCORED

Only Amendment at Last Moment Saved Constructive
Work of Ten Years
Says Solon

The progressive theory of water power legislation—that power-furnishing streams are property of the public—was explained by Senator Otto Bosshard to the normal science club last night at their first meeting of the year. The senator speaking from his own wealth of experience in water power problems in the legislature went over the history of the question in Wisconsin in detail to the present status of power legislation.

Scores Last Legislature
The 1915 legislature came in for an arraignment, the senator declaring that the session had made an effort to undo the achievements of the 1913 law which protected the rights of the people in power streams. Only an amendment which was fought through at the last moment, the senator said, saved the main feature of the water power law for the people.

Water powers as related to the question of fuel supply first occupied the senator. He showed that we have in our possession today fuel enough to supply the world for only two to four hundred years longer. So, he continued, the power of water has come to supplant coal and fuel in a great many instances. It was clearly explained how, in times gone by, private parties took over the water power of the state with its other resources merely by their ownership of the banks of the power-furnishing streams.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyleth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyleth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

FEW TUBERCULAR INSANE IN STATE

Board of Control Lays Extremely Small Ratio to Good Care in Institutions

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 3.—That the relatively small ratio of tubercular patients among the chronic insane is due to the fact that the patients are well cared for in county hospitals and afforded sanitary surroundings and good food is the opinion of members of the state board of control. At the present time the male tubercular patients are cared for in the Douglas county sanatorium. The state board of control is now considering plans by which the women tubercular patients among the chronic insane may be cared for in a separate institution.

According to the last report of the county institutions there were 5,863 chronic insane patients in the state. This does not include the insane patients in the two state hospitals and in the Milwaukee insane hospital. At the present time there are 18 male patients among the chronic insane and 17 female patients, who are suffering from tuberculosis.

WIFE REFUSES TO PROSECUTE DRIVER HELD FOR CRUELTY

Christ Bruchman Released by Court on Promise to Judge Not to Whip Children Again

Because his wife would not appear in county court against him, Christ Bruchman, 1009 South Fifth street, charged with beating his two small children with the end of a horse whip, was discharged today by Judge John Brindley. Mrs. Bruchman, who asked to have her husband arrested, claimed that she was too ill to come to the court room and asked later that the case be dropped. Bruchman promised Judge Brindley never to whip his children again.

Foreign Markets

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Fractional advances in standard issues, with active trading, marked today's stock market opening. Steel selling up 1/4 at 87 1/2, while New York Central gained 1/4 at 103 1/2. Erie showed a 1/4 gain at 44 1/2. War stocks were not very active. Westinghouse showed a loss of 1/4 at 71.

11 a. m.—Baldwin Locomotive continued heavy in the early trading having a depressing influence on other war stocks. Prices on the general list, however, changed but little in the first hour.

Renewed weakness in war stocks was a feature of the early afternoon and industrials also showed weakness. Crucible Steel lacked support. Louisville & Nashville was up 7-8 over Monday's close and Chicago & Northwestern showed a gain of 1-4. Otherwise there were no important changes in railroad stocks.

Trading broadened toward noon and prices were generally stronger. Bethlehem Steel's slump did not affect standard railroad and industrial issues. In the early afternoon the market was irregular. Some industrials were weak.

Improved tendency in late afternoon trading did not stimulate prices much. Crucible Steel selling at 75 7-8 near the close, after touching 82 3-4 earlier in the day and other shares also selling lower.

The market closed steady.

AID TO TEACHERS WILL COST $50,000 FOR FIRST YEAR

Approximately 2,500 of the State Pedagogues Will Receive Aid Under New Provision

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 3.—Approximately 2,500 teachers in Wisconsin will receive state aid this year as the result of a law passed at the last session of the legislature giving aid of from $2 to $8 a month to teachers who have remained in the same rural school district for more than one year. The state superintendent's office estimates that it will probably require $50,000 to meet this aid. In order to encourage teachers to remain in the same school district the last legislature passed a law permitting the payment of state aid in the sum of $2 a month to a teacher who has held the same position two years; $4 a month where the position has been held three years and $8 a month for more than three years. The work of the teacher must have the approval of the county superintendent and also of the state superintendent before this aid is paid. Payment of this aid comes out of the seven-tenths school tax of the state, which amounts to approximately $2,200,000. At the end of the school year the names of the eligible teachers will be certified to the state superintendent and later to the secretary of state for payment.

"Whys" of Moves in European War

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Lord Kitchener's power as British minister of war is being broken by the organization of a new general staff in London, which will have large control over the future direction of the war. Hitherto, Lord Kitchener has been allowed to exercise practically autocratic authority over the management of Great Britain's part in the war. He has decided questions of strategy and has sent armies to the battle fronts or withheld them as his own judgment dictated. Lord Kitchener, in fact, has had more complete control over the British army than the Kaiser has exercised over the German forces.

The Kaiser has been subordinated as a military leader, to his general staff, while Lord Kitchener has not allowed himself to be limited by staff discussions. The criticisms concerning the blunders of the British war office that have lately become so emphatic in London, have been directed in reality against Lord Kitchener. His name has been seldom mentioned directly because rival newspaper proprietors have not liked to trail after Northcliffe, the discoverer of Lord Kitchener's defects, and because Britishers have an uncomfortable feeling that it would be unpatriotic to overthrow the god at the war office even though his feet be found of clay.

Lord Kitchener is being made to feel, however, that he is not held blameless for the lack of military successes that have attended the British armies. The decision of the government to appoint a new general staff with largely increased powers is just as effective in its purpose as if it were accompanied by a public onslaught against Lord Kitchener's reputation.

Lord Kitchener's failure to develop powers of a military genius is the cause of the organization of the general staff and his lordship is to be made to realize that autocracy at the British war office must be eliminated for the future.

The demand for men who have completed the Wisconsin Short Course is far greater than the supply. Any man who wishes to farm for himself cannot afford to miss it.

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.
